

HARDING TAKES UP BIG PROBLEMS

Follows Wilson Plan And Appears Before Assembly in Person.

OPPOSES SEPARATE PEACE

Views on Important Domestic Problems Outlined. Says Nation Favors Aid to War Veterans.

(By Associated Press)
Washington, April 12—President Harding in his first address to Congress today announced that he would approve a "declaratory resolution" by Congress with qualifications essential to protect all our rights which would then be technically a state of war against the Central Powers of Europe.

The President added, however, that it would be idle to declare separate treaties of peace with the Central Powers on the assumption alone that they would be adequate because the situation is so involved that our peace engagement cannot ignore the old world relationship and the settlement already effective nor is it desirable to do so in preserving our own rights and contracting our future relationships. Although declaring unreservedly against the existing League of Nations, the President said:

"The wise course would seem to be the acceptance of the confirmation of our rights and interests as already provided and to engage under the existing treaty, assuming of course that this can satisfactorily be accomplished and will secure our absolute freedom.

An association of nations, the President said, could not be founded until the world was at peace.

Washington, April 12—Harding's principal recommendation to Congress in his first annual address delivered today included the following:

Foreign relations: no separate peace with Germany on the assumption alone that it would be adequate. The wiser course would be to engage under the existing treaty assuming of course that this can satisfactorily be accomplished by such explicit reservations and modifications as will assure our future freedom of advisable commitments and safeguard all our essential interests. No helpful society of nations can be found on justice and committed to the peace until the covenant re-establishing peace are sealed by the nations which were at war.

"Manifestly the highest purpose of the league of nations was defeated in linking it with the treaty of peace and making it the enforcing agency of the victory of the war. There can be no prosperity for the fundamental purposes sought to be achieved by an organ or any particular treaty or committed to the attainment of the special aim of any nation or group of nations. In rejecting the league covenant we make no surrender of our hope and aim for an association to promote peace in which we would most heartily join. In the national referendum (the last election) we pledged our efforts toward such association and the pledge will be faithfully kept. In the plight of policy and performances we told the American people we meant to seek an early establishment of peace."

Taxation: Readjustment of internal taxes and revision or repeal "of those taxes which have become unproductive and are so artificial and irksome to defeat their own purpose."

Tariff: Instant tariff enacted "emergency in character and understood by our people that it is for the emergency only."

Railroads: efficient operation "at a cost within that which the traffic can bear."

Railway rates and costs of operations must be reduced. "The remaining obstacles which are the heritage of capitalistic exploitation must be removed and labor must join management in understanding that the public which pays is the public to be served and civil justice is the right and will continue to be the right of all the people."

Good roads: The strengthening of laws governing federal aid.

Merchant Marine: private monopoly tending to prevent development of needed facilities should be prohibited.

Government facilities wherever possible without unduly interfering with private enterprise or government need should be made available for general

MAY PROSECUTE COUNTY DRIVER

Allege Cashtown Man Was Intoxicated at Time of Accident.

CRASH AT FAYETTEVILLE

Franklin County Sheriff Informed That E. W. Hartman And Son Showed Signs of Intoxication.

Prosecution may follow as the result of an accident last Saturday night on the Lincoln Highway at Fayetteville in which the automobiles of E. W. Hartman, Cashtown, and William Heathcote, of Fayetteville, collided. Both machines were badly damaged but the occupants escaped serious injury. Intimation is made by a Chambersburg newspaper that the Adams county man was intoxicated when the crash occurred.

The story as told by the newspaper says:

"The collision took place in front of the United Brethren Church at Fayetteville. Mr. Heathcote, a traveling salesman for a Reading hardware firm, was driving towards Chambersburg with his wife. The irregular course of the Hartman car, according to Fayetteville officials, was noticed by Mr. Heathcote, who in attempting to get out of the way ran onto the pavement. The Hartman auto struck the Heathcote car, a glancing blow, breaking a fender, tearing the toolbox from the running board and breaking the steering wheel. The Hartman car had a front wheel broken, the radiator damaged and lights shattered. Both cars were taken to a Fayetteville garage.

"The police were notified at 9 o'clock and as the case was one for the sheriff to handle, Sheriff Mayer was called. After slight delay the party, consisting of Sheriff Mayer and Lieutenant of Police Umberhocker, went to Fayetteville, but Hartman and his son, who had been with him in the car, had disappeared. Garage employees told the officers that both Hartman and his son were intoxicated, the latter so much so that when the auto was towed to the garage he was towed along with it.

"Hartman had conducted a fruit tree sale at Greencastle on Saturday and it is believed he was en route to his home in Cashtown, Adams county, when the collision occurred.

"Constable Ritter, of Greene township, said that if Sheriff Mayer, to whom the case was originally reported, did not prefer charges against Hartman, he would make information against the alleged drunken auto driver on information received. Sheriff Mayer went to Fayetteville and directed that the auto be held at the garage until further action is decided upon."

PEACH BELT HARD HIT

SOCIETY TO SEEK BURIED TREASURE

Gold And Precious Stones Said to be Buried on Deserted Island.

(By Associated Press)

Papeete, Tahiti, (Society Islands) April 12—Interest has once more been aroused in the treasures reported to be buried in the island of Pinaki, one of the coral islands to the eastward of Tahiti, and a new association has been formed in Tahiti to seek for the treasure. The story is that during the confusion of a revolution in Peru some sixty or more years ago a church was looted of a rich treasure of gold and precious stones by four men who succeeded in getting it to the coast, where they buried it in a safe place; afterward making their way to Panama.

Having secured a schooner there they returned to Peru, recovered the treasure and sailed to the eastward, intending to make Australia their destination. The fact that they possessed no papers presented an insurmountable obstacle to their gaining entrance to any port without rigid investigation. So they determined to bury the treasure on an uninhabited island in the Paumotu until such time as they could charter in Sidney a schooner for some alleged trading enterprise and, sailing with proper papers, return to the island.

Report From Hancock Region Most Discouraging.

Weather bureau warnings of cold waves will not concern many county fruit growers, for in many sections the freeze of Sunday night seems to have left complete devastation in its path. Conservative growers who were optimistic after the first hard freeze are sanguine as to fruit crops of any kind.

While the Hancock fruit belt in Maryland seems to have suffered most Sunday night and Monday morning, the additional damage was quite general, reports indicate. Not an apple bud was left in the Hancock district, where the fruit was in full bloom and it was estimated that a million dollar loss was conservative. Gloom pervades all reports from the fruit growing areas, although a few growers have expressed the opinion that a few buds escaped.

BROOKS ON 3 COMMITTEES

Caucus Gives State Large Number of Members.

Congressman Edward S. Brooks, of the York-Adams district, whose appointment as a member of the committee on banking and currency, invalid pensions and territories was made last week at the Republican caucus of members of the House of Representatives, was ratified Monday by the caucus.

The Pennsylvania delegation in the next Congress, the largest Republican state group in the national legislature, has received more recognition in the way of committee places than any other delegation in the House. It will have nine chairmanships in the new organization. This is one more than the State had during the last Congress.

UP TO LABOR BOARD

Action taken at Baltimore Monday night by officials of the Western Maryland Railroad Company to the effect that it is not the intention of the company to make any reduction of wages of its employees until the United States Labor Board at Chicago has acted on the matter, will be of interest to employees of the road here. The announcement of this decision was made by Maxwell C. Byers, president of the road, following conferences with various groups of employees.

PAVING TO COST TOWN $59,000

Lack of Quorum Prevents Council From Transacting Special Business.

TO FLOAT STREET BONDS

Adjourned Meeting Called For Wednesday Night. Finances in Shape to Meet Expense.

Lack of a quorum Monday evening prevented the Town Council from transacting the business necessary to complete the street paving negotiations. An adjourned meeting will be held Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock, it was announced. At this time the contract with the Seuler Construction Company will be signed and arrangements made to float the $35,000 bond issue authorized by the citizens at the special election held in February, 1920.

The contract and the figures showing the basis upon which the bid was submitted by the Seuler Company were discussed informally by three councilmen present. It was roughly estimated that the cost of paving Carlisle and Baltimore streets to the Borough, including the abutting property owners' assessment would be approximately $59,000. Of this amount about one-half will fall to the Borough to pay.

Members of the Council estimated that with the amount of money now borrowed to meet the Borough's share of the improvement of Chambersburg and York streets, the $35,000 would provide sufficient funds to meet the Town's share under the terms of the new contract. It was pointed out that of the total cost to the Borough and property owners for the paving of Chambersburg and Carlisle streets, the amount paid from the Borough treasury was approximately one-half. This amount included a heavy levy on the borough treasury for the large part of the Center Square. With the Square eliminated in the new contract, it is believed the Town's share will amount to less than one-half.

One reason the State Highway Department let the contract for the concrete paving instead of asphalt, it was said, was because the Department felt the Town would not be able to meet the additional cost that an asphalt job would bring.

Another feature that worked in favor of the concrete was that fact that the State job in Cumberland township which was attached to the contract. Had the asphalt job been selected for the streets, it is said, a proviso would have been attached calling for concrete on the 3,800 feet in Cumberland township on the Emmitsburg road.

Frank Penn, of the Third Ward, who sought damages for injuries to the horse he was driving received when it broke through a wooden culvert on Fourth street some time ago, notified the Council that the award of $25 made at the last meeting of the Council was not satisfactory and at the same time presented a bill of $21 for the doctor bill and a bill of $84 for the time lost while the animal was incapacitated.

LEWIS ASKED FOR EXPENSE DATA

House Opens Heavy Session. Strauss, Berks, Makes Charges.

Immediately on assembling of the House Monday night, Mr. Strauss, Berks, offered a resolution calling upon Samuel S. Lewis, auditor general-elect, to furnish detailed data and information to the House showing to whom moneys were paid unlawfully for expense accounts, the amounts, items and their character. Mr. Walker, Philadelphia, moved the resolution be referred to the Committee on Appropriations. Mr. Golder, Philadelphia, interposed objections and the resolution went over for printing.

The resolution said that Mr. Lewis, in a recent address before certain members of this House, declared that funds of the commonwealth had been used to pay expense accounts when, "in his opinion, said expense accounts could not be lawfully paid, and that after he became auditor general he proposed to consult the attorney general, and if his opinion was sustained by the attorney general he proposed to proceed to recover back into the treasury the money expended on these expense accounts," and that in the same address "he declared that persons were drawing pay without authority of law, and that others were drawing more pay than the law authorized."

NAME MAY 4 AND 5 CLEAN UP DAYS

Board of Health Comes to Definite Decision at April Meeting.

NO CLEAN UP THIS WEEK

Town Council Turns Over Entire Matter to Board. Will Provide at Least Six Wagons.

The much mooted question of the time for Clean Up Day was definitely decided by the members of the Gettysburg Board of Health at a brief meeting in the Chambersburg street store of President John W. Brehm, Monday night.

Wednesday, May 4, and Thursday, May 5, were named as Clean Up Days by the Board and will not be changed unless some unavoidable circumstances arise.

The regular April meeting of the Board convened at 8 o'clock and was attended by President Brehm, Secretary and Health Officer Earl Deardorff, Charles Hartzell, Ray Rupp and Charles Speese. During the discussion among these men the question arose as to whether or not the Town Council would conduct a town clean up on Thursday and Friday of this week as previously announced.

"I have been informed by the Town Council," said President Brehm, "that they are perfectly willing for the Board of Health to take entire charge of Clean Up Days and for that reason they have abandoned their plan to send around wagons Thursday and Friday of this week. Our Clean Up Days of May 4 and May 5 are the only ones therefore which the people have to keep in mind. If we are unable to clean up the town on May 4 and 5 we will continue our efforts to May 6."

During the meeting it was mentioned that the city of York had designated the first week of May for a general clean up because of the fact that the people would not have sufficient time to clean their houses and get rubbish together in April. For that same reason the Gettysburg Board deemed it a wise plan to defer their work until May.

On May 4 and 5 the Board will secure two or more wagons for each of the three wards in Gettysburg. Six or more carts working continually throughout the day they believe will be sufficient to carry away all the debris.

"The citizens of town should be reminded again to put their trash in receptacles," said one of the board members. "It takes too long to shovel loose ashes and dirt on wagons. By receptacles we mean tin cans, old boilers, boxes, baskets et cetera."

STOCK REPORT

Independent Steel Under Pressure. Sugar Falls 3 Points.

(By Associated Press)

New York, April 12—Independent steels were under pressure during the forenoon in the stock market. Republic lost 1 1/2 points, Lackawanna 2 1/2 and Sloss Sheffield extended its decline to 4 points. Sugars again reflected unfavorable financial conditions in Cuba, falling 1 to 3 points and chemicals also were heavy. Contrary movements made by coppers, tobaccos and specialties of the type represented by merchandise, particularly Sears Roebuck and May Department stores gained in these diversified groups, running from 1 to 4 points. Rails figured only slightly in the moderate turnover. Call money opened at seven per cent and exchange on London was fractionally lower.

STRIKE ON WAY TO SETTLEMENT

Government Warns That Negotiations Will Require Much Time.

HAVE RIGHT ATMOSPHERE

Proposal of Lloyd George Gives Basis For Discussion. Labor Leaders Are Hopeful.

London, April 12—Austen Chamberlain, the Government leader, said in the House of Commons last evening that while the right atmosphere had been achieved for the coal conference, neither the country nor the parties to the dispute were at the end of their difficulties.

The sudden impoverishment of the coal trade rendered the finding of a new wage basis troublesome, he asserted, adding that the negotiations promised to take some time.

Chamberlain declared there was an element outside the trusted leaders and outside the great unions of workmen which was not unready to propagate ulterior aims, and therefore it was necessary to pursue the precautionary measures already entered upon.

"It is vital the community should show that in the last resort, if its life and existence are attacked, it has the capacity to, and will, protect itself," he declared.

Labor Organ Claims First Blood

The Daily Herald, organ of labor, declared "the first round has been won by labor," adding that reports of railmen opposing the strike were untrue or grossly exaggerated.

Information has reached the Government, says the London Times, that everywhere but in Fifehire the miners are observing instructions from their officials not to interfere with safety measures and pumping, which have already been begun in South Wales and elsewhere.

Lloyd George, the Prime Minister, made the suggestion during a conference today that the owners give a full presentation of their case, stating the reasons why they considered the wage reductions justified, after which the miners' counter claims should be fully presented. He proposed that the miners then delegate six representatives to meet six representatives of the mine owners, with or without Government representatives present, "to begin the examination of possibilities and report respective constituencies."

Premier's Talk to Congresses.

Mr. Lloyd George told the miners and the owners:

"We have definitely concluded that we could not recommend to Parliament that we continue paying profits to the owners, and that the owners pay them to the men from the general taxes of the country."

In setting forth the Government's desires to the conference and proposing full presentation of the opposing cases, the Prime Minister said:

"First, let the mine owners present their case for their new scale. They should put their case fully. Then the miners should present their case, or their view of the owners' new demands, with any schemes or plans they may have, stating their case fully and entering into the whole matter exhaustively on both sides.

"We want these two counter-presentments to be the basis upon which we can examine the whole situation on both sides, so that we shall be fully informed what the issues and counter-issues are. Then I suggest that you entrust to a small body the examination of those proposals—a quite informal body and a quite informal examination—and that this body should report afterwards to the full body here, and that then we should endeavor to arrive at a decision."

INDICT GEORGIA FARMER AGAIN

Grand Jury Returns Bill Against Williams And Manning.

Monticello, Ga., April 12—Indictments were returned here yesterday by the Jasper County Grand Jury against John S. Williams, his three sons—Huland, Marvin and Leroy—and Clyde Manning, his negro farm boss, charging murder in connection with the deaths of 14 negroes on the Williams plantation.

Eight Indictments.

Eight indictments were found against John S. Williams, charging murder of eight farmhands whose bodies were recently found buried in pastures on his farm or were dragged from nearby rivers. Eight indictments also were returned against Clyde Manning for the same killings.

Huland Williams was indicted for the killing of a negro named "Black Strap."

One joint indictment was returned against Marvin and Leroy Williams, charging them with the murder of a negro known as "Iron Jaw," and Marvin Williams was indicted in addition for the murder of a negro named John Singleton.

To Probe Lynching

The jury will continue today investigation of the recent alleged lynching of Eugene Hamilton.

The investigation was begun yesterday morning, and Superior Judge Parks, in charging the jurors, declared that "unless the law acted to check these cold-blooded murders and outrages I firmly believe God Almighty will soon take the situation in hand."

Judge Parks had a prayer said in the court before instructing the jury.

SEIZE NARCOTICS

New York, April 12—Arrest of Joseph Lettieri, of Old Forge, Pa., a steerage passenger on an incoming Italian steamship and seizure of a trunk containing narcotics valued at $60,000 yesterday caused customs inspectors to express belief they had uncovered evidence against an international drug-smuggling ring.

Lettieri denied ownership of the trunk, which contained a false bottom used to hide the drugs.

A drug consignment worth $80,000 was seized from an Italian immigrant several weeks ago and authorities said they believed the "ring" was responsible for both shipments.

Announcement also was made that search for liquor smugglers among ship's crews would be redoubled. Customs officers confiscated sixty-five bottles of whiskey found under the floor of the fire room of a Japanese steamship.

FIND SKELETONS

Scranton, Pa., April 12—Buried under hundreds of bricks at the abandoned brickyard of Mathias Stipp in Keyser Valley, the skeletons of Nicholas Shontz and Joe Jura, eight-year-old boys of this city, who disappeared from their homes on the morning of Christmas Day, 1918, were discovered yesterday morning. The bones were identified as those of the missing boys by the shoes they had worn and by cowboy outfits they had received for Christmas presents the morning of their disappearance. It is believed the boys were playing cowboy in the old brick yard when the old kiln toppled over burying them.

FRENCH PLAN TO MOVE ON BERLIN

Radical Action Will Be Taken if Germany Persists in Evasion.

BELIEVE ALLIES WILL AID

France, However, Will Act Alone if Co-Operation of Associated Powers is Lacking, Report Says.

Paris, April 12—It is no longer doubted in circles here considered to have the best sources of information that France will, either alone or in common with the Allies, take radical action against Germany if satisfactory assurances regarding the payment of reparations are not forthcoming by May 1.

What form the action will take is still only a matter of surmise, but semi-official opinion is that it will be such as to impress the German people as they have not been impressed since the armistice.

The occupation of the Ruhr Valley and the entire industrial region of Westphalia is advocated by some. Others are convinced that the French army should this time go to Berlin, in order to make sure, they argue, of finishing a task which they hold would have been achieved much more cheaply in the end by this method than through the successive application of lesser penalties.

The temper of the French Chamber of Deputies, observers consider, admits of no doubt that Premier Briand will be obliged to act or resign. He has no thought, however, of giving up the task, it would appear, but will grapple with the situation as it develops May 1 with the determination finally to produce the effect desired.

IDENTIFIES MAN IN ASSAULT CASE

Account of Struggle Told in Frederick By Miss Tweedle.

Frederick, Md., April 12—"I'll remember his voice until my dying day. If that isn't the man who attacked me the man doesn't live." With this statement dramatically made in the courtroom here yesterday Miss Delsie Tweedale, 16 years old, of Catonsville Manor, near Baltimore, identified Charles Henry Dorsey, the negro accused of feloniously assaulting the girl at Manns Woods, Catonsville, on November 5 last.

The prosecution concluded its case last night and the defense opened at 9:30 a. m. today with the probability that the case will end tonight.

Dorsey was tried on the charge at Towson and after being found guilty was granted a new trial and a change of venue. The defense is making an effort to prove an alibi for the accused negro.

Victim Testifies

Miss Tweedale took the stand yesterday afternoon and told of the attack. The story she related was unshaken under cross-examination by C. Gus Grason and Elmer R. Halle, counsel for the defense.

The trial is being held before three judges—Chief Judge Hammond Urner and Associate Judges Glenn H. Worthington and Edward Peter. In order to expedite the trial as much as possible, the court held a session last night.

Miss Tweedale declared that when she was attacked her assailant threatened to kill her and said he had been lying in wait for her for three nights. She declared he used a piece of her own clothing with which to gag her.

DAZED ALIEN BACK

Lancaster, Pa., April 12—The last chapter in the strange case of Jacob Kimmel, a Lancaster war veteran, was written last night, when he was restored to his family, the Government being satisfied that his service in the world war was sufficient to warrant his admittance to the country despite an abnormal mental condition.

At the outbreak of the war, the young man, who is not naturalized, volunteered in the United States navy. He was on a ship torpedoed by a German submarine and found his way to a German prison camp. Here he remained to the close of the war, when he was transferred to a British hospital, where he gave a false name, although he said Lancaster was his home. Finally his identity was established by the Red Cross and he was brought to America in care of an attendant, but was detained at Ellis Island on the ground that he was an insane alien.

He showed signs of sanity when seen by members of his family and influential Jews enlisted the efforts of Congressman Grist. Finally the Department of Labor agreed to order Kimmel's admittance of a bond was filed to provide against his becoming a public charge. An effort to raise the money by subscription among Seventh ward Hebrews failed, but Robert M. Granat, a leaf tobacco dealer, offered a $25,000 bond, which was accepted.

FREE LAW VIOLATORS

Philadelphia, April 12—Although the court yesterday instructed the jury considering the case of Walter Cross, of Washington, D. C., charged with transporting whiskey without a license, that the offense was a violation of the Volstead act, the jurors brought in a verdict of acquittal. Judge Thompson, of the United States district court, before whom the case was heard, reprimanded the jury, declaring the verdict was not in accordance with the law.

The defendant did not deny he was transporting liquor without a permit, but his counsel charged the state police at Lancaster, Pa., attempted to extort money from Cross to allow him liberty.

PREFER TO STARVE

Scranton, Pa., April 12—Representatives of six hundred mine workers, idle as a result of the closing of the Jermyn mines at Old Forge, told an investigating committee appointed by the district organization that they would starve rather than accept a reduction in wages. The mine has been closed about a month and many of the workers are in straitened circumstances. An assessment of twenty-five cents per member has been made by the district board to furnish a fund to keep the men and their families.

Trouting Time

IDENTIFIES MAN IN ASSAULT CASE

Account of Struggle Told in Frederick By Miss Tweedle.

Frederick, Md., April 12—"I'll remember his voice until my dying day. If that isn't the man who attacked me the man doesn't live." With this statement dramatically made in the courtroom here yesterday Miss Delsie Tweedale, 16 years old, of Catonsville Manor, near Baltimore, identified Charles Henry Dorsey, the negro accused of feloniously assaulting the girl at Manns Woods, Catonsville, on November 5 last.

The prosecution concluded its case last night and the defense opened at 9:30 a. m. today with the probability that the case will end tonight.

Dorsey was tried on the charge at Towson and after being found guilty was granted a new trial and a change of venue. The defense is making an effort to prove an alibi for the accused negro.

Victim Testifies

Miss Tweedale took the stand yesterday afternoon and told of the attack. The story she related was unshaken under cross-examination by C. Gus Grason and Elmer R. Halle, counsel for the defense.

The trial is being held before three judges—Chief Judge Hammond Urner and Associate Judges Glenn H. Worthington and Edward Peter. In order to expedite the trial as much as possible, the court held a session last night.

Miss Tweedale declared that when she was attacked her assailant threatened to kill her and said he had been lying in wait for her for three nights. She declared he used a piece of her own clothing with which to gag her.

DAZED ALIEN BACK

Lancaster, Pa., April 12—The last chapter in the strange case of Jacob Kimmel, a Lancaster war veteran, was written last night, when he was restored to his family, the Government being satisfied that his service in the world war was sufficient to warrant his admittance to the country despite an abnormal mental condition.

At the outbreak of the war, the young man, who is not naturalized, volunteered in the United States navy. He was on a ship torpedoed by a German submarine and found his way to a German prison camp. Here he remained to the close of the war, when he was transferred to a British hospital, where he gave a false name, although he said Lancaster was his home. Finally his identity was established by the Red Cross and he was brought to America in care of an attendant, but was detained at Ellis Island on the ground that he was an insane alien.

He showed signs of sanity when seen by members of his family and influential Jews enlisted the efforts of Congressman Grist. Finally the Department of Labor agreed to order Kimmel's admittance of a bond was filed to provide against his becoming a public charge. An effort to raise the money by subscription among Seventh ward Hebrews failed, but Robert M. Granat, a leaf tobacco dealer, offered a $25,000 bond, which was accepted.

BADLY INJURED AT COATESVILLE

Littlestown Driver's Car Struck
By Heavy Machine. Pfeffer in Hospital.

While on his way home to Littlestown from Philadelphia, last Friday night with a car which he was taking to the garage of Basehoar and Mehrling, Littlestown, Charles Pfeffer, the driver of the car, had his leg broken above the knee and was otherwise severely hurt when the Ford was struck by a large touring car near Coatesville and badly damaged. The injured man was taken to a hospital in Coatesville where he received medical attention and where he is at present resting as well as can be expected.

Pfeffer with two other men, Edward Dutta and Creston Messinger, employed by Basehoar and Mehrling, had gone to Philadelphia for the purpose of bringing back a consignment of Ford cars under their own power. Pfeffer and Messinger made the start Friday evening. Dutta did not start with his machine until the next morning. The accident occurred when the first two machines were near Coatesville. The wrecked car was towed to Littlestown where it was taken to the Basehoar and Mehrling garage.

TROUT FISHING REPORTED "GOOD"

Winter Favorable For Young
Fish That Were Sent Out.

Conditions are generally favorable for good trout fishing in Pennsylvania counties where such angling has been customary and trout will probably be found in more streams than a year ago because of systematic "planting" in opinion of Commissioner of Fisheries Nathan R. Buller, who has received numerous reports of fish wardens and men looking after young fish. "The winter has been favorable for trout and we have sent out more fish than ever of a size able to take care of themselves," said the Commissioner. "The indications are good for fine fishing in many sections."

Commissioner Buller said through the assistance of fishermen, trout, brook, brown and rainbow, had been put in streams which had yielded no fishing for years and he was hopeful that this work could be continued. Brown trout have been placed in streams which do not have as much shade as formerly.

WED IN MARYLAND

A wedding was solemnized Sunday when Ruth Naomi Matthias, daughter of E. Charles Matthias, East King street, Littlestown, became the bride of Walter David Shoemaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shoemaker, residing near Littlestown. They motored to Ellicott City, where they were married by the Rev. A. G. Null, a cousin of the bride. They were accompanied by Miss Edna Matthias, sister of the bride, and Clyde Basehoar, both of Littlestown. After the wedding the bridal party motored to York, from which place Mr. and Mrs. Shoemaker left on a trip to the Middle West and Niagara Falls. Upon their return they will reside for the present at the home of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of the Littlestown High School and the York School of Business, and has been employed for the past two years as a clerk in the Littlestown National bank. The bridegroom served in the army in France during the world war, and is now engaged in the garage business in Littlestown.

TELLS HOW GREAT ENEMY EXISTS

"The Mosquito From Cradle to Grave" Subject of Series of Articles.

PEST "IS AN AMUSIN' CUSS"

Piercing Device is Described as Neat,
Unique And Complete Arrangement.
Tells of Wigglers And Tumblers.

The story of the life of Gettysburg's arch enemy—the mosquito—from "the cradle to the grave" is started by Dr. G. D. Stahley, Carlisle street, in the second of his series of five articles that are to precede the campaign that is to be launched here against the pest. How the mosquito comes to life is told in the following article:

In our crusade against the mosquito and all his works and ways, it will not be out of place to study somewhat its body structure and its life history, for, as Artemus Ward once said in regard to a pet coon of his,—"he is an amusin' little cuss", the truth of which will depend entirely on the individual viewpoint.

The mosquito is a fly, that is it belongs to the Order Diptera, insects which have only two wings and includes all the so-called flies of high and low degree.

The family name is Culicidae, and the genus which usually keeps us awake at night is Culex, of which there are at least twelve species in the United States. Culex pungeus, is the specific name of our usual Gettysburg variety, called pungeus, perhaps, because of the pungent manner in which it administers its punch. Later, I will have occasion to refer to two other mosquitoes, each under a different genus, which have been caught in the act of conveying disease germs to man.

An ordinary magnifying glass shows the mosquito to be a slender fly, having a head, a thorax and a long abdomen. From the thorax comes off three pairs of legs and one pair of wings. From the head come off the mouth parts, which combine to form a so-called proboscis, consisting of a tube for sucking, and within this tube two small daggers for piercing. It will readily be seen that this stinging and suction outfit is splendidly adapted as a means to an end, and that it is "neat, unique and complete", as a friend of mine claimed for an umbrella he had invented, which he said was "expandable, collapsible, reversible and universally adaptable."

It is very difficult to determine the normal length of life of an adult mosquito. When they are under observation, in confinement, the conditions of course are abnormal and no dependence can be placed on the length of life observed. The consensus of opinion arrived at by observers is that "the adult mosquitoes live indefinitely,—certainly, under favorable circumstances, in summer for several weeks. I am sorry I cannot offer a more substantial comfort to my fellow citizens, but "truth is mighty and must prevail", even if we must scratch for it.

The life history of the mosquito, "from the cradle to the grave", is intensely interesting, if one can forget for the moment the domestic infelicities it has engendered, and only regard its mutations from the fascination of its natural history standpoint.

So far as is known all mosquitoes are aquatic in their early stages. It has never been shown that any of them lay their eggs anywhere except in water. I suggest to those people who entertain the belief that mosquitoes breed in an abundance of foliage, moist or otherwise, that they revise their opinion. They are not the only people who have been mistaken, as for example, the great Aristotle believed that fleas originated in decaying matter, and that "bugs proceed from the moisture which collects on the bodies of animals."

The family instincts of the female mosquito become operative early in each season, and she deposits at one time about three hundred eggs, the mass being glued together and floated on the water in the shape of a pretty little boat. In about three days' time the larvae emerge from the lower side of the egg cases, at which time they are legless creatures, provided at their sides with long swimming hairs and an air tube posteriorly placed. This period continues for from five to fifteen days, when the larvae becomes enlarged and humped anteriorly, and become the so-called pupae in which form they also remain for from five to fifteen days. In common language the larvae are called "wigglers" and the pupae are called "tumblers", thus named because of their great activity. Most people have seen these young agile mosquitoes in rain barrels. Their rapidity of movement is caused by quick undulations of their body, and constitutes their safeguard from danger, as they have many enemies to elude. In due time the pupae goes to the surface of the water, the skin on its back cracks open, the finished product, the mosquito, emerges, dries its wings and flies away,—just where it flies to some of us can make a pretty sure guess.

Thus the life history of the mosquito,—in my next I will consider it as an inhuman companion of humans.

DRY OFFICERS GET JAP SAILOR

Was Smuggling Liquor Ashore.
Opened Fire on Enforcement Agents.

Jacksonville, Florida, April 12—One Japanese sailor was seriously wounded and four others were placed under arrest by Federal Prohibition officers Sunday night during a raid conducted for whisky, which is said by the authorities was being smuggled ashore from the Japanese steamer Erie Maru.

The shooting occurred, officers said, when one of the Japanese seamen opened fire on them. They returned the fire, they said, wounding one of the crew. He was removed to a hospital here and four others were arrested on technical charges and held pending an investigation.

According to the officers, they had information that members of the crew would attempt to smuggle liquor through the port and negotiated with some of the sailors to have the contraband delivered to them. It was brought ashore by sailors Sunday night, it was said, and as soon as its delivery was affected the officers moved to place the men under arrest when one of the Japanese opened fire.

The arrests were then made. The Erie Maru put in here April 7 from Barry, England, to load phosphate. It is in command of Captain M. Hambayshie.

Payment will probably be made through the Federal Reserve Bank in New York, treasury officials said last night.

SPRAY TO KILL SPIDERS

Is Advice To Fruit Growers From Arendtsville Laboratory.

That the Red Spiders are exceedingly numerous in Adams county this year and are likely to damage foliage seriously if spraying is neglected, is the opinion of S. W. Frost, of Arendtsville, State College research worker, as expressed in the following article:

"The Red Spiders are very abundant this year in some orchards in the county and threaten to cause serious damage to the foliage unless some spraying is done. Many fruit growers are not familiar with this insect and hence the following notes are given.

"The insect is minute and seen only by the careful observer. It is red in color and looks like red pepper scattered on the leaves. They are not active like the red bugs but remain for a long time in one position on the under side of the leaves.

"During the past winter the eggs of this insect were abundant on the branches of the apple but they have all hatched and are now feeding in large numbers on the new foliage. A spray of summer strength lime sulphur at this time will kill the most of them. An application was made April 9th on the Raffensperger orchard, near Arendtsville, with the result that a large percentage of them were killed."

MAKES LEAP FOR MOVIE

Crane Jumps From Brooklyn Bridge
Puffing Cigarette.

New York, April 12—While motion picture cameras clicked on the deck of a tug in the East river yesterday, Daniel Carone, 27, of Mount Vernon, puffing a cigarette, leaped from the center of Brooklyn bridge and was picked up in the water 133 feet below, alive and unharmed. It was his second jump from the structure, he having performed the feat in 1915.

A policeman saw Carone spring from an automobile on the south roadway and climb a steel girder. He shouted and ran towards him, but before he could reach him Carone plunged into space.

Carone's friends on the waiting tug saw his body strike the water. He soon appeared and began to swim toward the tug. In fifty strokes he had reached the craft and was hauled aboard amid cheers.

Carone said he also had jumped off London bridge and High bridge at Glasgow, Scotland.

INDEPENDENTS MEET

Discuss Plans For Coming Season.
Will Organize Wednesday.

Plans for the reorganization of the Gettysburg Independent baseball nine were discussed at a meeting of the players in the home of Manager John Raymond Monday night. Manager Raymond, Roy Mundorf, Henry Bream, Edward Woodward, Harry Sadler and David D. Kendiehart were in attendance.

It was definitely decided by the players to have a team this season. An assistant manager, field captain and other officers will be elected at a meeting in Manager Raymond's residence Wednesday night.

An existing debt will be wiped out, it is hoped, by a dance to be held in Xavier Hall this month. After that the Independents, according to their plans, will stage a block dance to raise money for the coming season.

ODD FELLOWS CENTENNIAL

Gettysburg Members Planning To Attend Big Event In June.

The city of Philadelphia will witness the greatest outpouring of Odd Fellows ever known, on Tuesday, June 7th, when a large and picturesque parade will be held on Broad street, Spring Garden street and the Parkway, in honor of the 100th anniversary of Odd Fellowship in America.

Many members of the Gettysburg lodge are already preparing to attend the Pennsylvania Odd Fellows Centennial. Daniel S. Coleman has been selected as the representative from this lodge and it is expected that many others will accompany him.

The celebration will start on Saturday, June 4th, by the placing of a Bronze Tablet on the building that now occupies the site of Upton's Tavern, 218 Dock street, which was the birthplace of the order in this state in 1821.

Monday evening, June 6, in the Metropolitan Opera House, Governor William C. Sproul and Mayor Hampton Moore will welcome the delegates, Tuesday afternoon about 40,000 members together with the children from the several orphan's homes and the residents of the aged homes will participate in what is expected to be the largest parade of a fraternal order ever held.

WHO CAN PICK THE MAJOR WINNERS?

Many Blue Ridge Products Start Their Seasons Wednesday Afternoon.

(By C. William Duncan)
How many of you sporting bloods know that the big league season opens Wednesday afternoon? All of you, no doubt.

How many know who is going to cop the pennants in the American and National Leagues. None of you, of course. Neither do I.

In the days when the lean form of Edward S. Plank adorned the mound for the Philadelphia Athletics, the opening of the big league season was an event of significance in Gettysburg. Then there was no High School team which could beat Baltimore City College and no college nine which consistently trimmed Bucknell. Furthermore there was no Ward League or John Raymond's Independents. The big leagues were the all-absorbing topic of discussion and Centre Square was crowded every evening with fans who were anxiously awaiting word from Philadelphia. Finally when word came over the wire "Athletics 4-Detroit 2, Batteries: Plank and Thomas; Mullin and Stange", the fans would howl just the same as if they had been there to see it.

Now the doings of the local teams overshadow those of the big leagues to a great extent. Last summer there was comparatively little interest here in the major league races except among the "dyed in the wool."

This summer the case should be different. Evidently there will be no Ward League or other local circuit to furnish food for the fans who after the high school and college seasons close will be entirely dependent upon big league and Blue Ridge news.

During these coming six months of big league gossip there are several players who will be watched closely by Gettysburg and Adams county fans.

Lefty Sherdell, known in his Hanover High School, Independent and Blue Ridge days as "Kid" Sherdell, is one of that number. "Kid" has been up in the fast set since the fall of 1916 and is about ripe for an exceptional year. Last season he performed splendidly in relief roles for the St. Louis Cardinals, but never got much chance to start games.

Jimmy Dykes, who covered second base for the Gettysburg Blue Ridge team in 1917, is another lad who is expected to produce this year. He is now a regular with Connie Mack's Athletics and is counted on to fill Fairfield, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Carey

Backache and Kidney Disorder

(By Dr. L. C. Babcock)

Simple methods are usually the most effective. The mere drinking a cup of hot water, each morning, and a little "An-uric" (anti-uric acid) before every meal has been found the most effective means of overcoming kidney trouble. Death would occur if the kidneys did not work day and night in separating poisons and uric acid from the blood.

The danger signals are backache, depression, aches, pains, heaviness, drowsiness, irritability, headaches, chilliness, rheumatic twinges, swollen joints, etc.

Step into your drug store and obtain "Anuric," first discovered by Dr. Pierce, of the Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., or send Dr. Pierce 10 cents for this package.

What the Presidents Did in Their Youth

John Adams, the Second President

John Adams as a School Teacher

is not home brewed. Most of it comes sweeping in from other countries, blowing up beyond the three mile limit without passport or tariff restrictions. Some of it might breathe brand, "Made in the U. S. A." but as a general thing it is imported. For the most part, the American supply of rain, snows, blizzards, cold waves, hot waves, tornadoes and tempests, come tumbling in from the Northwest and the West. A smaller percentage, the Society reports, come from the North and Southwest, but now and then the wind in the Gulf of Mexico and the South Atlantic kicks up its heels, and there is trouble.

But, say the learned men of the Society, it is worth noting that none of the weather enters the country through the stretch of the Atlantic Coast North of Cape Hatteras, the section in to which pours the vast bulk of material imports, and which occurs a majority of the main disasters on American shores.

There is some consolation to enthusiasts for the "Made in America" movement, the Society says, in the fact that the great majority of disturbances that enter the States originate in Alaska, or in the great warm cauldron of the North Pacific between the Aleutian Islands and Hawaii, which is almost a United States sea. MAY DELAY STATE BILL

Measure Increasing Lower House Was Introduced.

Introduction of a bill in Congress to increase the membership of the lower House by twenty five members may have the effect of still further delaying the apportionment bills in the Pennsylvania Legislature and may block congressional reapportionment at this session. News of the proposed bill created some surprise at the State Capital as the draft of the congressional bill for this State contained thirty six districts and it is not known how many more seats may be provided. At the same time there is a disposition among men active in State affairs to get rid of congressional apportionment at-large.

In all probability the introduction of the apportionment bills, which it was currently reported would go in this week, will be held up again. The studies for the four measures have been completed and the drafts have been discussed by some of the State leaders.

A number of members of the Legislature have gotten busy on a program his only capital, he started out to win his way in the world. The first thing that the young graduate needed was money. He obtained the situation of instructor in one of the public schools in Worcester, which was then a town of only a few hundred people. His ardent, intense nature found school teaching a slow business at best. In some of his moods he was heartily sick of it, he felt the stir of larger ambitions; he thirsted for a wider sphere of action. While teaching school young Adams also studied law. When he was admitted to the practice of law he declared with firm resolution never to commit any meanness or injustice in the practice of the law. Adams devoted himself to his profession with great vigor and rose rapidly in public esteem. The young lawyer eagerly espoused the cause of the Colonists when the British Government began its career of aggression upon them. He denounced the Stamp Act and other measures of taxation. He soon became a leading advocate of independence, and throughout the Revolutionary War, devoted his great talents to the interests of the Colonists. He became one of the early builders of the Republic and succeeded Washington to the Presidency.

MISS M'PHEE
WELL AGAIN

Vinol Does Wonders For Thin Pale, Run-Down Women

Sarah Jane McPhee

WHAT MISS M'PHEE SAYS
East Boston, Mass.—"I got into a run-down anemic condition, was nervous, had no appetite and could not sleep. In fact I was so run-down and miserable I did not feel able to do anything. I had tried so many medicines. I decided to try Vinol and it helped me from the start. My health improved rapidly, my indigestion disappeared, also nervousness. It built up my blood, I have gained in flesh, and consider myself in good health—Sarah Jane McPhee, 7 Trenton St., East Boston, Mass.

The reason Vinol built Miss McPhee up so quickly was because her blood was poor and she needed the blood-making, strength-creating elements of cods' livers, iron and beef peptones which are contained in Vinol. $1.00 a bottle, guaranteed. Peoples Drug Store.

HARRIS IS SET FREE

Man Who Dreamed Story Of Elwell Murder Released at Buffalo.

Buffalo, April 12—Roy Harris was freed from custody here at noon Monday after he had signed a declaration stating that his confession of complicity in the murder of Joseph B. Elwell, in New York last June, was false. Harris swore to the truth of his latest statement before Justice

Wesley C. Dudley, in Supreme Court chambers.

No other charge having been preferred against Harris, he walked out of the Court a free man, arm in arm with his wife, who had been previously released from a police station where she had been held as a witness.

Fannie Hurst's beautiful story of a boy's genius and a mother's love. Beginning in the clamor of New York's Ghetto. Rising to the heights. Then ending - - where?

A story that cries to hide its laughter and laughs to hide its tears.

More pathos than "The Music Master."
More fun than "Polish and Perlmutter".

THAT GIRL WITH THE MONKEY

She was a new type to this young aristocrat. He had known girls with wealth, and beauty, and social position, but here he was head-over-heels in love with a penniless orphan, a mere circus performer, who was good at summer-saults, but didn't know whether etiquette was something to eat or to wear.

Dick loved her just as she was, but aristocratic Southern families are not so easily satisfied as ardent young lovers are. The bewildered little clown found that life in a big house was quite different from life under the big top—in fact, that it was anything but a circus.
